

TERRAMUSICA

First Edition

Description

In the wake of a musical tradition that, for centuries, has seen the participation of Bergamo's, institutions, artists and craftsmen's workshops, the Trade District of Alba retraces the history of a noble past.

The protagonists of the five musical events that together create the calendar of the Festival, are the precious artifacts of the ancient workshops of the organ builders of Bergamo (in the three organ recitals dedicated, in particular, to the genius of Father David Maria from Bergamo) and the Musical Institute which, with its lively presence for over a century, has been hosting great teachers and preparing great professional musicians and singers.

The Brass Group of the Institute of Musical Studies "Gaetano Donizetti", the musicians Simone Gramaglia and Luigi Attademo (respectively viola and guitar) and the three organists Giancarlo Parodi, Paolo Bottini and Marco Ruggeri will be the testimonials of the musical "product" of Bergamo presenting, once again, the value of an inspiring land and of a fascinating and incredible history.

The importance and the value of the organs in the churches of Orio al Serio, Stezzano and Zanica stand as a characteristic element of this event that, in the memory of Father David Maria from Bergamo (once, Felice Moretti – born in Zanica, in 21st January 1791, died in Piacenza in 24th July 1863), intends to give voice to the vibrant colours and sounds that represent the Italian organ tradition that, during the nineteenth century Italy, made world headlines.

Ritoveremo, così, ricreati in chiesa, gli stili che caratterizzano il linguaggio teatrale, tendente a conferire alla cantabilità delle grandi linee melodiche il peso maggiore del discorso musicale.

We will have the opportunity to experience once again the styles that characterize the theatrical language, recreated in the atmosphere of a church.
